WELCOME TO THE GREATER SEALY AREA

I am writing to welcome you to Austin County and to introduce myself as your County Judge. We are thrilled that you have chosen to make our community your new home, and we look forward to getting to know you better in the coming months and years.

As County Judge, it is my job to represent the interests of all of our residents in our community. We are proud of our beautiful natural resources, our thriving local economy, and our strong sense of community; and we hope that you will quickly come to appreciate all that our county has to offer. Whether you are interested in exploring our many parks and recreational facilities, shopping and dining in our charming downtown areas, or getting involved in one of our many civic organizations, there is something for everyone here in Austin County.

As you settle into your new home, please don't hesitate to reach out to me or any of our other county officials if you have any questions or concerns. We are here to help make your transition as smooth and seamless as possible, and we are always happy to hear from new residents. Once again, welcome to Austin County! We are excited to have you as a part of our community, and we look forward to seeing all of the great things you will accomplish here.

Sincerely,
Tim Lapham
Austin County Judge

On behalf of the City of Sealy's City Council and Staff, it is my pleasure to welcome you to our city. Our rich history began with the development of the railroad and of course our San Felipe neighbors, thanks to Stephen F. Austin. The early business community leaders were very wise platting our wide streets bordered by huge oak trees as well as providing for the residents' daily needs that continued to migrate from European Countries by way of Galveston's port. The steadfast work culture has endured through the generations as well as the love of social activities from music, bingo and church. Another example of our heritage is the historic Liedertafel famous round dance hall located in our own city where weddings and various gatherings continue. School and sport activities are ongoing year-round. Also, there are many good choices for local shopping as well as dining in or take-out.

The Location on Interstate 10 (40 miles west of downtown Houston) and State Highway 36 is convenient for commuters who prefer a less hectic lifestyle as well as business and commercial industries. The current City Council and Staff have been challenged with meeting the growth by providing a continued reliable infrastructure for water, sewer, gas, solid waste, streets, drainage and all public safety needs. In addition, the Council, staff, Sealy Economic Development Corporation and Chamber of Commerce work as a team to provide assistance as needed.

As a new or returning resident, I urge you to get involved and become part of the fabric of Sealy's activities and ongoing heritage. Please stay informed on city business through the website www.ci.sealy.tx.us. Once again, welcome; we are pleased you have chosen to live in Sealy.

Sincerely,
Carolyn Bilski
Mayor of Sealy

Sincerely,

Some of the activities: Taking our seniors to the Austin County Fair, planned trip to Disney World in Florida for the youth, Seniors outing to the Skeeters baseball games, the Debra Duncan show and many, many more.

The organization has had many different presidents including: Yvonne Johnson, Peter Clark, Yolanda Keese, Cookie Curry, during the tenure of these former presidents' property was purchased with the hope of building a community center for all to enjoy.

Our current President Chrissy McGee and the members are still working the mission, we are diligently working within the community of Austin County to ensure that our community is well balanced. Tony's Family Restaurant:

A Sealy Staple Since 1936

Nestled in the heart of Sealy, Texas, Tony's Family Restaurant has been a beloved gathering spot for locals and visitors alike for generations. Established in 1936, this cherished eatery, now back under the original ownership of Tony and Stacy Tsounakas, continues to serve up southern comfort dishes made fresh to order, welcoming guests for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. When you pulled up and saw their iconic sign, you knew you were in for a treat!

In the 88 years since its founding, Tony's Family Restaurant has seen several chapters in its storied history. After Tony and Stacy Tsounakas purchased the establishment in 1983, they successfully operated the business until 2003, when it was leased by the Servos family. On June 1st, 2023, the Tsounakas' reclaimed ownership, driven by a commitment to continually serve their customers better. Over the years, Tony's has maintained a dedicated staff, with many team members staying for 20+ years, up to their longest employee, Henry Jurek, working there for 51 years.

Tony's prides itself on offering a wide variety of dishes to satisfy every craving. From classic breakfast staples like eggs and bacon to hearty omelets and fluffy pancakes, each morning at Tony's begins with hot, fresh coffee and a warm welcome. For lunch, the steam table is a favorite among diners, serving up heaping portions of southern favorites like Chicken Fried Steak, Chicken Fried Chicken, and Chicken & Dumplings, all hand-breaded to perfection. The menu extends to include Mexican fare, succulent steaks, juicy burgers, sandwiches, and an array of seafood options. No meal at Tony's is complete without indulging in one of their homemade desserts!

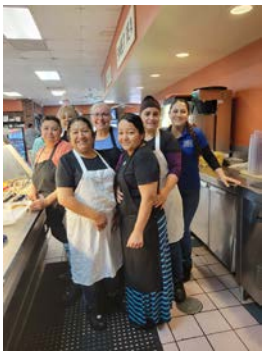

At Tony's, guests are greeted with fast and friendly service, ensuring a pleasant dining experience from start to finish. Whether you're a regular patron or a first-time visitor, you'll feel right at home in the welcoming atmosphere of this cherished restaurant.

In addition to its exceptional food and service, Tony's Family Restaurant holds a special place in the Sealy community as the 5th longest-standing member of the Greater Sealy Area Chamber of Commerce. Tony's boasts an impressive 40-year membership, with 10 of those serving as a Chamber Board Member. This longstanding commitment to the community is a testament to Tony's dedication to serving its patrons and supporting local initiatives.

With its warm hospitality and extensive menu options, Tony's Family Restaurant is the perfect destination for creating lasting memories with friends and family. Whether you're gathering for a special occasion or simply craving a delicious meal, Tony's invites you to join them for a dining experience that celebrates the rich tradition of American hometown diners.

SEALY AREA

There's something in the water here in the Greater Sealy Area! Explore this impressive lineup of renowned figures with roots right here in Sealy, known across the state, country, and the world!

Born in Sealy in 1960, Eric Dickerson is a former professional football running back who played for Southern Methodist University from 1979-1982 and was selected in the first round of the 1983 NFL draft. He played for a total of 4 NFL teams - the Los Angeles Rams, Indianapolis Colts, Los Angeles Raiders, and Atlanta Falcons - and played for a total of 11 seasons. In 1999, Dickerson was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame, and is renowned as one of the greatest running backs to ever play the game.

Cousin to Eric Dickerson, Ricky Seals-Jones is a professional football tight end in the NFL. While attending Sealy High School, Seals-Jones played both football (pictured right in uniform) and basketball. He played for the Texas A&M Aggies from 2013-2016 where he played as a wide receiver. The Arizona Cardinals signed Seals-Jones in 2017 and switched his position to tight end. In addition to the Cardinals, Ricky Seals-Jones has signed with the Cleveland Browns, Kansas City Chiefs, Washington Football Team, New York Giants, and Indianapolis Colts throughout his professional career. He is currently a free agent.

The 2023 Greater Sealy Little League Junior Softball Team made history as the first Greater Sealy Little League team to clinch the District 13, Section 1, and Texas East State Championships. The team led the season to become the Southwest Junior League Softball Champions and competed as a 2023 Junior League World Series Team, where they placed 4th in the world!

Born in Sealy in 1904, Huey Long was a jazz and R&B guitarist and singer. Prior to playing the guitar, Long learned to play the banjo, where his musical career began at just 15 years old. In 1933, he performed at the World's Fair in Chicago with Texas Guinan's Cuban Orchestra. He joined the legendary jazz group, The Ink Spots', in 1945 as a temporary replacement for a guitarist who was drafted into the army. He moved to New York where he taught music and played for tribute bands, until he retired to the Houston area.

HALL OF FAME

Moving to Katy, Texas when she was just 9 years old, Kelly Kaminski didn't begin competing in barrel racing until her 20's, after she had already graduated college from Sam Houston State University. Despite the delayed start to her career, Kaminski went on to become a two-time World Barrel Racing Champion, a two-time Reserve World Champion, and a five-time National Finals Rodeo Qualifier. She now resides in Bellville with her family.

Four-time PRCA Tie-Down Roping World Champion, Caleb Smidt has also found his home in Bellville. Smidt entered the professional rodeo circuit in 2013 and has qualified for the National Final Rodeos every year since. After finishing fourth in the world in his 2023 season, he announced his plans to retire from the sport. With his retirement, he hopes to be able to spend more time with his family and plans to continue helping run his family's feed yard.

The story of the The Koy Family of Bellville, Texas is one of legend in Texas sports history. A graduate of Bellville High School, Ernie Koy was a three-time all-Southwest Conference fullback for the Texas Longhorns football team from 1930-1932 and outfielder for the school's baseball team from 1931-1933. After graduating college, he joined Major League Baseball, where he played for four National League teams from 1938-1942. In his first major league at bat, he hit a home run - the first position player in the franchise to do so. He played on teams with fellow baseball legends, including Babe Ruth and Joe DiMaggio.

Ernie's oldest son, Ernie Koy Jr. was selected team captain of the 1960 Bellville HS football team and voted 'Most Valuable Texas High School Player' that same year. Ernie Jr. played as a running back on the 1963 National Champion Texas Longhorn football team and later for the New York Giants from 1965-1970. In addition to playing running back, he also served as the Giants' punter.

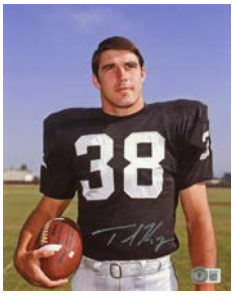

Following in the footsteps of his father and brother, Ted Koy played as a football player for the Texas Longhorns. He was a starter of the 1969 National Championship team and was drafted by the Oakland Raiders in the 1970 NFL Draft. He played as tight end for the Raiders in the 1970 season and then signed with the Buffalo Bills, where he played until 1974.

Ernie's legacy didn't end with his sons, however. His daughter, Margaret Koy Kistler, was a pioneer of Texas sports journalism. In 1967, she became the first woman to cover sports for a Texas newspaper - the Abilene Reporter-News - where she had her own sports column.

Haynes Mattress Factory

In 1881, Daniel Haynes (1828-1913) arrived in Sealy, a burgeoning railroad town. Four years later in 1885, he revolutionized mattress manufacturing with his innovative process and machine, trademarking the Haynes name. By 1906, his patents and equipment were sold to a company adopting the name Sealy, leading Haynes to establish a new factory in 1909. This factory remained a cornerstone of Sealy's economy until 1976, testament to Haynes' pioneering legacy.

DID YOU KNOW?

The smaller buildings to the left of the main mattress factory were for housing cotton separately in case of a fire.

Sealy Cemetery

On July 5, 1883, Sealy recorded its first burial at the Sealy Cemetery, that of infant Annie Fowlkes. Families initially acquired cemetery plots directly from the railroad until the land was donated to trustees C.H. Ruff, R.P. Josey, and John Hackbarth in 1887. The Sealy Cemetery Association, established sometime prior to 1898 and officially chartered in 1924, received vital support from the Ladies of the Cemetery Society. Formed in 1904, these ladies helped upgrade and maintain the cemetery. Notable members like Mrs. J.W. (Vera) Ripple and Mrs. Paul (Mahala) Hackbarth spearheaded community events like the Christmas Bazaar Fundraiser, evolving into a cherished annual social affair. Among the 2,400 grave sites lie the resting places of Sealy's earliest settlers, adorned with diverse gravestones and statuary, including two mausoleums.

Liedertafel Hall photographed by Chelsea Humes

Liedertafel Hall

A singing society known as Liedertafel, formed by Sealy's early settlers around 1899, convened primarily at Ferdinand Lux's residence. Lux and Fritz Kinkler, Jr., generously donated land for a permanent building in 1912-1914, leading to the construction of a distinctive round frame dance hall. Erected with materials from the F.W. Hackbarth Lumber Company, this octagonal structure became a focal point for community concerts, festivals, and dances, serving as a beloved gathering spot for special events for decades.

Sealy Historical Park

The Sealy Historical Park, a testament to local heritage, encompasses various historic structures, including the Santa Fe Museum building, once home to the Sealy Weekly News. Originally constructed in 1900, it relocated in 1929 to make way for the Texas Theatre. Additionally, the park features the two-story brick mercantile store built by John and Louis Hackbarth in 1880, alongside Sealy's first jail, partially rebuilt after a fire in 1887. Notably, visitors can explore the 1927 Way Car, a vintage steel caboose from the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad, preserving an era of railway history. The park is managed and maintained by the Sealy Area Historical Society.

Hackbarth Building

German natives F.W. (Fritz) and Carolyn (Krampitz) Hackbarth arrived in Galveston in 1846 with their two sons. They settled in Austin County, where Fritz farmed and ranched, and the couple had four more children, including F.W. Hackbarth, Jr., born in 1849. The Hackbarth Building, a cornerstone of Sealy's commercial history, stands as a testament to the entrepreneurial spirit of F.W. Hackbarth, Jr. and his family. Erected in 1907, this imposing structure housed various businesses, including a bank, jewelry store, general store, and the Sealy News, reflecting the vibrant commerce and community life of its time. The building is now home to Botts Title Company.

Preibisch Building

In 1885, German immigrants Adolph H. Preibisch and Emilie purchased lots in Sealy and commissioned the construction of a commercial building, completed in 1886-1887 by brick mason John Colleton. Initially housing Preibisch's own store, it sold household goods and furniture, and also served as a funeral casket outlet. Over the years, the building accommodated various businesses and remains a significant part of Sealy's architectural history. The building now houses Saddleback Saloon.

THE HISTORY OF SEALY

The Birth of Sealy

In the early 1820s, a new settlement known as San Felipe emerged on the western bank of the Brazos River, rising to prominence as the capital of Stephen F. Austin's colony. Serving as both the seat of government and the location of Austin's land office, San Felipe de Austin marked the first and largest Anglo-American settlement in Mexican Texas, facilitating the introduction of 300 families into the region.

In the mid-1870s, the burgeoning town faced a pivotal decision when the Gulf, Colorado, and Santa Fe Railway proposed routing its new Galveston-Brenham spur through San Felipe. Despite declining the offer, the railroad acquired a right-of-way through the western section of the original 22,000-acre municipal tract.

The subsequent purchase of an 11,635-acre tract from the San Felipe de Austin Town Corporation led to the establishment of a new townsite south of Bullinger's Creek. In 1879, the bustling town of Sealy was officially founded, named in honor of George Sealy, a prominent director of the Gulf, Colorado, and Santa Fe Railway.

The railroad quickly became the primary employer and transformed the area, constructing yards, machine shops, and a roundhouse. Additionally, an influx of German and Czech settlers diversified the local economy, integrating farming and ranching alongside railway operations.

Despite facing adversities like a disastrous flood in 1899 and the relocation of the railway division headquarters in 1900, Sealy persevered. The establishment of the Missouri, Kansas, and Texas Railroad in 1892 and the Cane Belt Railroad in 1903 further solidified Sealy's position as a vital transportation hub. Manufacturing enterprises such as the Haynes Mattress Factory and the Engelking Brothers Broom Factory bolstered the town's commercial reputation. On August 16, 1949, Sealy residents voted to incorporate the town as Austin County's newest city.

A Familiar Name

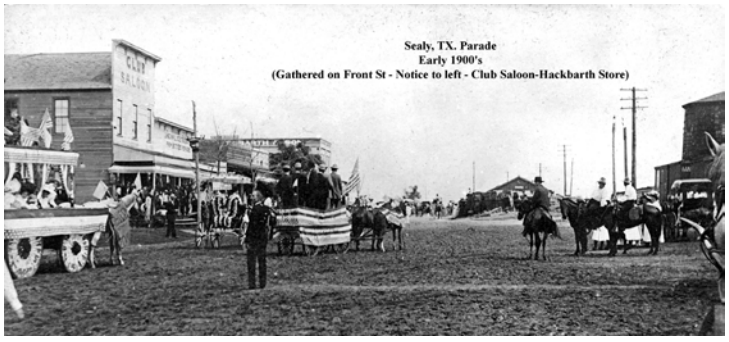

Sealy Mattress traces its roots back to 1881 when Daniel Haynes, a cotton gin builder in Sealy, Texas, began crafting cotton-filled mattresses for his local community. His mattresses quickly gained popularity, leading to increased demand and wider recognition. In 1889, Haynes patented a machine that compressed cotton, revolutionizing mattress manufacturing. As his reputation spread beyond Sealy, his mattresses became known as "Sealy mattresses." In 1906, Haynes sold his factory, patents, and manufacturing equipment to a group from Texas who chose to retain the name and call their new company the Sealy Mattress Company. Haynes established a new mattress factory in 1909, which continued operations after his death in 1913, solidifying its status as one of Sealy's primary industries until 1976.
